

SECURE A MINING

Salt Laker Get Bay State Property Near Eureka.

DAMAGE SUIT SETTLED

DAILY WEST GETS $12,500 FROM THE ANCHOR BY COMPROMISE.

The famous old Bay State mine, from which millions were taken by the Bay State company in the early days, and which is located about twelve miles east of Eureka, Nev., has fallen into the hands of prominent Salt Laker, who have undertaken its purchase at a handsome figure, and made the first cash payment. The next payment becomes due March 1 and the balance has to be paid at stated intervals during the two years which the purchasing crowd has possession of the mine.

Those who undertake to land the prize and who have backed their faith in the proposition by putting up a snug sum to begin with, are Willard D. Thompson, Autin Tienan and another gentleman who does not wish to figure openly in the transaction just at present.

The mine is owned by Thomas Robinson of Eureka, who secured it from the eastern company years ago through buying up accounts against it and forcing a sale on the property. Since he came into possession of it Mr. Robinson has taken out over $70,000 from one ore chamber alone, but like hundreds of others of old-time properties, when the very rich ore were exhausted meager knowledge of treatment caused a suspension of operations and a practical abandonment of the mine.

The purchasers have made exhaustive examinations and tests on the ore and they are positive that there is now enough in sight to pay the purchase price many times over and Messrs. Thompson and Tienan left for camp yesterday to plan campaign of development for the winter months.

In the spring the old twenty-stamp mill on the property will either be remedied or a new one will be put in and mining and milling will begin in earnest.

CONSOLIDATION ASSURED.

Dexter and Tuscara Will Become One in a Month.

At a meeting yesterday in which the directors and some of the principal stockholders of the Dexter and Tuscara Mining companies got together and talked over plans for the consolidation of the two companies, it was decided that a move was practically agreed upon, though the matter of arranging details was postponed till Saturday next, owing to the fact that business necessitated the absence of some of the directors of each company from the city between now and that time.

On the return of John Derr he was advised of an understanding which had been reached by a large majority of the stockholders of each company, and was asked to sign the agreement which they had subscribed to. After the conditions of both mines had been gone into, particularly that of the Tuscara, on which some $15,000 has been spent in developments during the year, he promised his concurrence in the undertaking.

It contemplates the bringing together of the two lines at the present capitalization of the Dexter company, or $1,000,000, with the exception that in the place of there being 200,000 shares with a par value of $5, the consolidated company will have 500,000 shares of a par value of $2 each.

How this consolidated stock shall be apportioned to shareholders in each company has also been practically agreed upon, but no one was willing yesterday to stand responsible for what it was pending the directors' meeting on Saturday next. However, as more than two-thirds of the stock in each company has already been pledged to support the scheme, there is no danger but what it will go through and become a reality just as and as the legality of publishing a call and having the stockholders vote on the proposition can be carried out.

It is unofficially stated that the stock in the consolidated company will be issued half to the Dexter and half to the Tuscara shareholders, the greater area and more perfect developed condition of the latter being considered as a clear offset against the mill and other valuable surface improvements of both no one at all acquainted with the properties doubts for a moment.

NEW MINING COMPANY.

Senator Rawlins and Others Take in Big Cottonwood Mines.

Articles of incorporation of the Great Western Gold & Copper Mining company, which has been formed to operate a group of claims at the head of Big Cottonwood canyon, lying to the south-east of the famous Brighton resort, will be filed in the secretary of state's office today. The company is capitalized for $200,000, divided into 200,000 shares, and the officers and directors named in the articles are as follows: J. L. Rawlins, president and treasurer; J. H. Hurd, vice president and secretary; the other directors being E. A. Taylor, R. A. Brighton and J. R. Letcher.

The company owns ten claims situated as stated above and the mine is a mineral belt which they cover has been penetrated to a distance of more than 100 feet in each of two tunnels. The first 100 feet of the tunnel has been finished, and a contract has been let to R. A. Brighton to send it in 150 feet further at once. The last 50 feet of work done in one ore foot of which under sample assay gave returns of 24 per cent copper, six ounces silver and $2 in gold. The value of the material carries from 2 to 7 per cent copper and proportionate values in silver and gold.

The purpose of the company in extending the lower tunnel is to cross-cut the mineralized zone which is described by Mr. Brighton as being from 200 to 400 feet wide, and if the limits have not been reached when the contract has just taken has expired, he feels quite sure work will be continued till it is.

President Rawlins and others of the directorate will accompany Mr. Brighton to the property about Thursday next.

COMPROMISED FOR $12,500.

Daily West-Ancor Suit Settled Out of Court.

The Daily West-Ancor $200,000 damage suit, which has been on before Judge Norrell and a jury at Coalville since Thursday last, was yesterday morning brought to an abrupt termination through a compromise having been effected. By its terms each side pays its proportion of the costs of suit and the Daily West secures $12,500 from the Anchor company and the action is dismissed.

This kind of an outcome looked probable on Saturday night when it became known that the statute of limitations was to be argued to determine just when the claim against the Anchor should begin, it being evident that the defendant company intended to maintain that the claim against it would not hold good according to the provisions of that law.

That the case has been thus easily and comparatively inexpensively settled will be gratifying news to the stockholders of both companies, to the one because even though a greater sum had been secured under judgment it would surely have meant an appeal and the expenditure of a large sum in attorneys' fees, and to the other for the reason that the payment of the amount decided upon is unquestionably the cheapest way out of it. The ending may therefore be said to have been a happy one all around.

CUSTER COUNTY MINES.

J. C. Fox of Challis Talks of Outlook in His Section.

J. C. Fox, the well known business and mining man of Challis, Custer county, Idaho, was in the city yesterday on legal business and pulled out for home again last night. Mr. Fox was interested in some of the ground recently acquired by the Blackbird company and still owns much property in the same district.

The latest word from that section, Mr. Fox says, is that Messrs. Sharp and Turner of Idaho Falls have made a most important strike on Deer Creek, three miles north of the Blackbird company's mines. They are reported to have opened into between three and four feet of very high grade ore on a few feet from the surface, having followed a seam disclosed by the wash of the creek.

Mr. Fox says the country is heavily mineralized for fifteen miles or more and the great ore zone on which the Blackbird and other properties are located is from two to three miles wide. The Challis route is not quite as short as that from the Montana side, but he believes it to be by far the best and says next week he looks for a great awakening in that section. The Blackbird company has a most magnificent property and it is being opened up in systematic and telling manner, but there are hundreds of claims and chances to locate hundreds more which have just as good surface showings as anything which the Blackbird company owns and which may be expected to respond to intelligent and energetic work.

With the building of the Butte & Boise road Mr. Fox expects to see Challis become the smelting center of the Salmon river section, as the valley is large and productive, with a practically limitless water power and a mild climate.

MINING CASES DECIDED.

Montana Actions Before Frisco Circuit Court of Appeals.

San Francisco, Oct. 8.—The United States circuit court of appeals today reversed the decision of the circuit court of Montana in the case of the United States vs. McCoy et al.

The case of the St. Louis Mining & Milling company of Montana vs. the Montana Mining company (limited) was remanded to the circuit court for a new trial as to the damages alleged and the recovery sought for the conversion of ore between the planes indicated on the map showing the location of the mine. Judge Ross dissented from the decision.

The Conklin sampler yesterday received fifteen cars of ore from Tintic.

The Central-Bureau company marketed eleven cars of copper ore yesterday.

The Ophir Hill company began the week by sending in thirteen cars of concentrates.

The Horn Silver company was in the market yesterday with three cars of concentrates.

It is reported that the West Argent company will pull out to run before the end of the month.

The Taylor & Brunton sampler yesterday marketed three cars of concentrates from Stockton and three from Frisco.

Charles D. Rookledge goes to Inyo county, Cal., tomorrow on mining business. He expects to be away a little while.

A car shipment of ore is being made up at the Bunker Hill, a portion of which is crude first-class ore and the balance concentrates.

Manager O'Donnell is back from the Bunker Hill, a portion of which is crude first-class ore and the balance concentrates.

Victor A. Clement returned from a several weeks' trip into Mexico yesterday, where he has been banishing chasing for English ore.

Manager M. P. Gilbert returned from the Blackbird company's Idaho mines yesterday, after a season's work was mapped out before he headed for home.

Colonel S. B. Milner is booked for a trip into Idaho today, where he goes to look after the interests of the big irrigation scheme with which he has become connected.

After making an inspection of the Horn Silver mine, in company with Manager Farnsworth and other directors, President Allan C. Washington left for his New York home Sunday afternoon. A $20,000 advance is promised for December, and indications point to a regular quarterly distribution during 1901.

Superintendent James Hickey of the Comstock came down from Park Sunday night, and will likely go back this morning. He reports the new hoisting plant practically ready to run. The boilers are now being tested and another set of engines is being put in. Hickey says he will only require about forty days to drop into ore.

Eight cars of gold ore from the Star Consolidated reached the side tracks of the samplers yesterday, and in a day or two more will have been shipped. Manager Packard has evidently tired of explaining the condition of the mine from day to day in response to the usual queries yesterday he replied that it was looking "very poor."

W. C. Ross, exhibiting samples of very rich ore recently encountered in the old Gold Note property. Some of it goes to the assay office, and some is being secured at a point in the tunnel being run to tap the vein below the old workings about 40 feet from its mouth. Messrs. E. H. Ais and Dr. Woodruff have a lease and bond on the property.

Following are the shipments of ore from the Mackintosh sampler for the past week, as reported by the Park Record:

SUPREME COURT SITS

Opening Day of Term Made a Brisk Beginning.

MAJORS' CASE GOES OVER

RIO GRANDE WESTERN SUES FOR RIGHT OF WAY.

The October term of the state supreme court commenced yesterday, and for the opening day it was about the busiest that the court has ever had. A number of important cases were scheduled for argument, among them that of James Morgan, alias Abe Majors, under sentence of death for murdering Police Captain Brown of Ogden. However, these cases were reset for Oct. 23 and 24, the latter day being the time when the plea for a new trial for the condemned man will be heard.

After the mandate of the supreme court of the United States in the case of the Rio Grande Western Railway company vs. the Teuliride Power Transmission company et al. having been filed, it was ordered that judgment for respondents in the sum of $336.40 for costs be entered, and that the appellant's writ of error be dismissed. The mandate was also ordered transmitted to the Fourth district court for the execution of the procedure indicated. The question involved was with reference to the railroad company's right of way over the power company's land at the mouth of Provo canon.

After substituting H. R. MacMillan as attorney for respondent in the case of Ogden City, respondent, vs. the Bear Lake & River Waterworks & Irrigation company et al., the motion to dismiss the appeal was taken under advisement.

The second and last case argued and submitted was that of the state of Utah vs. James W. Beddo, appellant, E. A. Walton appearing for appellant and Deputy Attorney General Lee for respondent.

Admitted to Practice.

On recommendation of Frank Pierce, George F. Goodwin and D. C. Elchorn, the examining committee, William McCrea, George A. Udal, Harry M. Fennimore, Thomas C. Hanford, Charles W. L. Stevens, Alma Ash and Paul C. Thorne were admitted to practice as attorneys before the bar of the court.

On motion of P. T. Farnsworth, Jr., Orville A. Murdock of the Nevada supreme court was admitted to practice before this court.

Mathoniah Thomas of the supreme court of Michigan and Charles D. Kennedy of the supreme court of New York were admitted to practice on motion of Attorney George L. Nye.

In the case of Ida C. Ferringier et al., appellants, vs. the Commercial and National Bank of Ogden and Nelson-Judson Drug company, intervenors, leave was granted to file amended abstracts.

In the case of E. W. Babcock, respondent, vs. the Commercial Mining company and G. Lavagnino, leave was granted to file supplemental abstracts.

Upon stipulation the case of New York vs. the Commercial Mining company and G. Lavagnino, leave was granted to file supplemental abstracts.
